CHARLES-TOWN,

We hear that after Capt. Langdon and Capt. Hall left this Place, they sail'd for the Island of Cuba; at the So: East Part of which they enter'd a River, and sail'd up the same under the continual Fire of the Spaniards who lay in Ambush on both Sides thereof having receiv'd Intelligence of their Coming, by a small Pettiaugua which escap'd them; Capt Langdon and Capt. Hall notwithstanding the Fire the Spaniards made against them, sail'd 25 Miles up the said River, and took a small Schooner, which is a fine Sailor, and one of the Prizes mention'd in my last: From that River they sail'd with the Schooner, and a few Day after in the Windward Passage, they spy'd a Sloop making towards them, for which they lay too, the Sloop still continuing her Course came up with Capt Langdon, upon which Capt. Langdon demanded her to strike for England, and the Master answer'd, presently, and Capt. Langdon gave him a Shot, which he return'd, whereupon Capt. Langdon gave him a Broad-side, which the Sloop also return'd and Capt. Langdon gave her two more, which it seems satisfied them, for they then were pleased to strike to Capt. Langdon and Capt. Hall; so that they have had the Honour of being convoyed into this Port by them.

The Capt. of the Prize Sloop said he was a French-man, and pretended the Vessel belong'd to Cape Francois; but it was prov'd in Court that she was bound to Carthagena, and that he (the Capt.) had a Spanish Commission which he threw over board as soon as he saw he should be taken. It was likewise prov'd that her Lading was to supply the Galleons at Carthagena; she is a large Sloop, and has 6 Carriage and 4 Swivel Guns mounted: Both Prizes were condemned on Wednesday last.

The Sloop's Cargo chiefly consists of Brandy, Oporto and Champeign Wines, perhaps the best ever imported into this Province.
